- Lisa Ventura announced that this year's SAS dinner was the most successful to date! Lisa said the estimated gross is around $41,000 and after the last bills are paid, the club should end up with about $33,000 for grants and the Backpack Program. Thank you everyone!

- Ellen Wayne announced that Catholic Charities' annual Sharing the Light Dinner is coming up. Ellen put info on each of the tables, but if you would like to know more, please let her know.
- Dave Cook reminded everyone of the Santa Train chicken BBQ on June 3rd at Hotel Exchange. He will have packets of tickets available for you to sell in the next week or so.

Fines/Happy Dollars

- Peter Einset was happy to have been able to go to NYC and see some wonderful plays.
- Jim Dickson had happy dollars for Lisa and Dick for putting on such a great dinner and for finally being able to wear summer clothes.
- Ted Baker was happy for all who helped with the dinner, but especially for Lisa. She had a nice schedule made up for him and when different things should be happening. Ted ended up being right on schedule.
- Stephanie Hesler was happy to have been able to go to Chicago for the Masterminds tournament.
- Richard Kasulke was happy for the great table chart for the dinner. He had a great time with those seated at his table.
- John Johnson was happy for Pam Helming's visit and for the Station becoming a Center of Excellence.
- Dave Cook thinks everyone did an excellent job honoring Jim DeVaney and thinks Jim's head may finally be shrinking back to normal.
- Mary Lawthers was happy for all those that came to Eddie O'Brien's to watch her grandson on Dancing with the Stars.
- Ruth Leo had a happy dollar because she is in love with Mary's grandson!
- Chris Fitzgerald was happy for the same reason and is glad Linda Equinozzi came back with her today and turned in her application!
- Mickey Shultz shared that she and her husband will both be starting work at their separate wineries and that her grandson is turning 21 this weekend.
- Lisa Ventura was happy that the MacKenzie Childs candy dishes made $7,000! Jim DeVaney is now carrying the urns at his funeral home.
- Bill Buell had a dollar because he forgot to watch Mary's grandson Monday night.

50/50

Trina Newton split $44/$45 with Polio Plus.

Program

Today we had our annual face-off with Geneva High's Masterminds team. Rotarians Phil Beckley, Ellen Wayne, Richard Kasulke, joined by student Nate Jacon, faced off against Mastermind team members Connor Hibbard, Quinn Hogan, Nate Hesler and Seamus Hogan. The competition was fierce, but the Masterminds won by getting 14 questions right as opposed to the Rotarians 6. Great try though people!
