Program

Our speaker today is Joyce P. Jacobsen, 29th President of Hobart College and 18th President of William Smith College, a scholar of economics, an award –winning teacher and an experienced administrator, named on July 1st, 2019.

President Jacobsen was accompanied by her Chief of Staff, Kathy Regan. She gave an overview of how HWS has prepared for the re-opening of classes.

Here are a few highlights:

- Classes will start on August 24th, continuing until the Tuesday before Thanksgiving. Students will either go directly home or stay on campus if unable to return home.
- 55% of courses will be taught in person, 25% will be designated as hybrid, 20% will be totally remote.
- Arrivals on campus will be staggered
- Testing will be required, either before arrival or available upon arrival
- Health reports will be available on-line every day, monitoring procedures will be clear and enforced, plans are approved for isolation if necessary(both on campus and at the Microtel in Geneva), Ontario County Health Department will be in charge of contact tracing, Finger Lakes Health will be consulted as needed
- More classes will be held outside as long as weather permits with tents added to the landscape, including a Paleo-Anthropology course which will be taught completely outside
- Every effort has been made to de-densify all areas of campus, triples and quads (housing) have been eliminated as have most doubles
- Sodexo will clean all public spaces on campus twice a day, masks will be required in classes, the six feet distance rule will be applied, all fall sports have been canceled
- Auditing courses in person has been canceled but may be conducted on-line, and in general, limitations have been set for people arriving on campus.
- The Colleges have incurred some out of pocket expenses, such as masks, hand sanitizers, facial shields, and kits for each student.
- Fraternities and Sororities are operated but not owned by the Colleges. These properties are leased to HWS. President Jacobsen advised calling Public Safety should anyone have an issue with violations. She also encouraged emailing her at HWS with any questions.
