Program

Dr. Nicholas Jackowetz joined us from the AgriTech Tech Farm. Dr. Jackowetz started a company which processes hemp. CBD oil is known for its potential in easing symptoms of many common health issues, including anxiety, depression, sleep issues and pain. His company extracts CBD oil from hemp and makes it into a water-soluble solution that can be used in food and beverages. Companies like Constellation Brands will purchase the solution from the company to put in anything from coffee to seltzer. We had a very lengthy Q & A session, and asked Dr. Jackowetz a million questions.
