Next week:

Round Table

President Stephanie opened the meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance and invocation. We were treated to a festive buffet lunch provided by Dick Austin and Bella's! Thank you, Dick, for your generosity!

Guests

Scott Cook, Joanne Bleakley, Jerri Flood, Steve Hesler and Catherine Ravensong

Announcements

- Charlie Bauder thanked everyone who has signed up to ring the bell for the Salvation Army on Christmas Eve. There is one slot open at Wal-Mart (Ed. Note: I believe it's been filled, but didn't hear by whom!)
- Dave Cook was happy to say that Finger Lakes Railway got a "Bud car", similar to a trolley, that can be used for a Wine or Santa Train.
- Ruth Leo saw Mickey Peters who reported that Dan Quigley has moved to St. Ann's in Rochester. Bob Stenzel added that he had just heard that Dan has COVID and is currently in hospice. We will keep Dan in our prayers! If anyone would like to send a card, Dan's address:

Fines and Happy Dollars

- Phil Beckley and President Stephanie will be on WGVA radio at 8:45 a.m. tomorrow morning. (Ed. Note: Sorry, folks, I didn't get these notes done before 8:45 this morning!)

- Ruth Leo and Mary Lawthers got a onesie for “Future Rotarian”, Nora. Ruthie will deliver it to Diana with Rotary’s best wishes.
- Susie Flick had a fainting episode while standing in line at the post office. Several people came to her aid and offered her water. We’re happy to report that she is OK but just a bit embarrassed.
- John Watson quipped that “Susie has gone ‘postal’”!!
- Mike Rusinko has three special occasions to celebrate in December: his wife Carol’s birthday, their anniversary, and Christmas. Unfortunately, they were not able to celebrate their anniversary as they had to attend a family funeral but he wanted to tell us how much he loves his wife! (Aww, Happy Anniversary Mike and Carol!)
- Jim Dickson will be traveling to Washington, DC for the holidays. (Safe travels, Jim!)
- President Stephanie thanked Richard Kasulke for donating money to buy water for last week’s Santa event, but of course, Susie had already taken care of it! The money was returned to the Club.

50/50

Dave Cook shared $69/$34 with the Foundation!

No program, but President Stephanie thanked Dick Austin and staff for the awesome job today. Also, we will induct two new members to the club in the coming weeks!

Next week: Round Table and December birthday celebration
