President Diana led the Pledge of Allegiance and gave an invocation.

Visiting Rotarians

- Lisa Ventura, Chemung County Sunrise Club
- Katie Strojny, Interact

Guests:

- Rosalie Gabriele, guest of Dr. Steadman

Announcements

- A sign-up sheet for Friday's social at Sunset Bowl was circulated. It's $10 a person (two hours of bowling and shoes).
- The next dinner meeting is February 7 at 6 pm at Dana's Time Out.
- With the solar eclipse on April 8, is anyone interested in organizing a viewing party? If you are, please contact President Diana.
- Rich Kasulke has arranged April 4 and 18 as our days for helping with the Community Lunch Program. A sign-up sheet will soon be circulated.
- Save the Date – A Sparkling Night at the Smith on March 9 at 6 pm
- The Geneva High School musical is Anything Goes. Performances are March 14 and 15 at 7 pm and March 17 at 2 pm.
- Eclipse viewing glasses will be available for free at the Library starting in March.

Happy Dollars

- Kathy Fuchs (through President Diana) enjoyed the Armenian performance.
- Johnnie O did Salvation Army bell ringing with Katie and Wyatt Patchett.
- Susie is happy to see Katie. Due to mid-terms, there are few items for the bake sale, but she encouraged everyone to bid high and often.

- Jason Haag's son broke his arm. He thanked Tamara Carter for dancing with his son during the Armenian performance. He also had a mourning dollar for Sunday night.
- John Watson thanked Susie Flick for getting him signed up for a library card so he can access the things she mentioned last week.
- While on vacation in Florida Mike Rusinko had dinner with Ellen Wayne. She sent best wishes to Frank Capozzi and all her Rotarian friends.
- Jim Dickson was happy for the Detroit Lions win but had sad dollars for Sunday night. He also had $20 for the mystery person who was kind enough to purchase his lunch today.
- Rich Kasulke thanked the Armenians. The program was excellent, and he had a great time. Kudos to Dave Cook for making the arrangements.
- Ted Baker had happy dollars for Sunday night. He also paid two fines. During the last radio show with our newest Rotarians, he bragged about knowing the 4-Way test and forgot it on air. He also forgot that Tamara Carter helps Susie with Interact.
- Linda Sutherland's three-year-old grandson broke his leg while the family was in Florida. It was also a blessing to have the Armenians visit and to see the program. Go Chiefs.
- Jerry Forcier thanked Dave Cook for organizing the Armenian performance.
- Ray Ciancaglini thanked Dave Cook for the Armenian program as everyone enjoyed the program. He also thanked Ted Baker for helping him. Parker Vorozichak (the son of former Rotarian Dr. Mike Vorozichak) has had several surgeries and can't walk. A hospital has been found that can do another surgery. Money is being raised to help with the expenses. After Ray appeared on the radio with Ted, donations have kept coming in. For donations the Venmo address is @Prayers_for_Parker or send it to Finger Lakes Chiropractic and Wellness, 324 West North St., Geneva, 14456. Hear Parker's story here.
- Dave Cook thanked Linda Sutherland, Jamie Mathews, Rich Kasulke, Linda Equinozzi and Mary Gearan for helping with the Armenian visit. He was very concerned how the Armenians would be perceived at the High School, but it went great. The whole school got to see the performance. Over $1,000 was raised. Dave also mentioned that the city is so lucky to have the Gearans back. (Members agreed with a round of applause)

50/50:

Dave Cook shared $76 with the Foundation which he gave to Happy Dollars

Program

The Interact Bake Sale was held with goodies from Mary Gearan and Stephanie Hesler. Through the sale and donations, $225 was raised.

Respectfully submitted,

Kerry Lippincott
